

East of Salinas

East of Salinas is the story of a bright boy and his dedicated teacher. With parents who are busy working long hours in the fields, third grader José Ansaldo often turns to his teacher, Oscar Ramos, for guidance. But José was born in Mexico. And he's on the cusp of understanding what that means for his future. The film poses the question: What is lost when promising kids are denied opportunities through no fault of their own? Produced and directed by Laura Pacheco and Jackie Mow, East of Salinas premieres on Independent Lens.

*The Riverside
Task Force:
Invite you to a viewing of the life of a migrant worker.*

*Monday, October 9th @
8pm
Grand Junction
City Hall Auditorium*

A Hispanic Heritage
Month Celebration
Event

